Headquarters Washington National Guard, Calexico, Cal., Aug. 8.—For the first time since their arrival from the northwest, Washington troops today found use for the scorching sun. Old Sol is made the goat for nearly every breach of discipline in camp. Troopers blame nearly everything on the heat.

From the time the mercury passes the 100 degree mark and shoots up to 10 or 15 degrees above, "affected by the heat" seems to be the universal alibi.

Thus, today, when several guardsmen were called to appear at headquarters for venturing too close to Mexican gambling houses across the border—which happens to be across the street here, each man held the desert heat responsible.

The alibi is becoming so common that surgeons of the hospital corps have termed it "dementia desertaria."

Dementia desertaria is an amazingly contagious affliction they say.

MAY ASK TEN CENTS FOR FIVE CENT LOAF

Say Flour Has Advanced 70 Per Cent—Bread Would Go Up 100 Per Cent

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 8.—Ten cent bread was the keynote sounded at this afternoon's session of the National Association of Master Bakers by C. N. Power of Pueblo, Colorado.

"The overhead expense on the fifty loaf is out of all proportion to the value of the article," he said. "The interest of the consumer and producer alike will be better served by the dime loaf. It will be practically twice the weight of the present five cent loaf, local standards prevailing. The baker cannot give the best value in nutritive, digestible bread for a nickel. The buyer has no right to expect the same value in two five cent loaves as in one dime loaf."

T. T. Frankenburg of Columbus, Ohio, director of the association's publicity, opposed a suggestion to increase the price of the five cent loaf to six cents. He favored ten cents.

"Flour has advanced 70 per cent in two years and forty per cent in the last sixty days," said J. Burns of Omaha, president of the convention.

"Ten cent loaves are the only salvation of the bakers' trade. The increased price of raw materials makes it necessary for us to cut our overhead expense, which is the same for the dime as for the nickel loaf."

In his annual address on the topic, "Preparedness for the baking industry," President Burns urged co-operation against unreasonable demands of food inspection and unjust legislation.

S. P. McDonald of Memphis spoke on the subject "Welfare of Employees." E. D. Strain of Battle Creek, Mich., led the discussion on the report of the legislative committee made by H. W. Stude of Houston, Texas.

Material and Labor Higher.

New York, Aug. 8.—The increased cost of flour, land and labor is given by New York bakers as ample reason for either the reduction in weight or the raising in price of the ordinary five cent loaf of bread. "Everything that is used in making bread and the cost of labor as well, has gone up," said C. E. Abbott, of the Abbott Bakeries.

"The size of the loaf must be reduced or the price increased."

Profit in Big Loaves.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—"Increasing the price of bread appeals to bakers no more than it does to the consumer. There is only one answer and that is 10 cent bread," said Paul Schulz of the Schulz Baking companies here today.

"We can make a profit on the big loaves at 10 cents but not on the small ones at five cents."

Quakers Don't Know It.

Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—If there is any contemplated increase in the price of bread to 10 cents, it is news to bakers in this city.

May Reduce Weight.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 8.—There is no likelihood of five cent bread being raised to 10 cents here. "The five cent loaf of bread is popular," said Superintendent Graham of the Ward bakeries.

"I don't think we will raise the price. If flour and land goes higher we might reduce the weight."

San Francisco Stands Pat.

DR. HARDING REFUSES TO ADMIT DEFEAT

Woman Who Took Topeka by the Ears and Made It Be Good

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 8.—Dr. Eva Harding, the Sunflower state "fighting woman," would not admit today that the Reverend R. J. Corwine has beaten her for the democratic nomination for congress in the First district. Corwine claimed the nomination by about 200 votes.

"I don't know whether I have been nominated or not," Dr. Harding said today. "If I have been nominated I expect to be elected, Dan Anthony notwithstanding. It makes little difference to me whether I fight for the rights of women and children in Washington or in Kansas."

Dr. Harding does not like to campaign.

"I like a tangible scrap; something I can dig right into, like fighting for a children's park in Topeka. A campaign does not seem to me to be that kind of a scrap," she declared.

"If Anthony is a real good politician and I have been nominated, he will refuse the republican nomination and make it unanimous for the woman candidate—a compliment to Kansas women and suffrage," Dr. Harding said.

Dr. Harding got her name, "Fighting woman" when she put a state text book law through the legislature and enforced it after ousting one school board and arresting another on a criminal charge of selling illegal school books, "bootlegging school books," she called it.

Another name, "Injunction" Harding was given her when she got out an injunction restraining the city of Topeka from making a "park for the rich" and another restraining the street car company from going down Eighth street when it had promised to go down Tenth.

"Is it any wonder I am called a scrapper?" she asked. "I like it a good deal better than going out after votes for myself."

TO TEST PICKETING.

The giant submarine Deutschland and her crew of twenty-seven men, braving the line of allied warships waiting outside the Virginia capes to intercept her, sailed from Baltimore under her own power on her projected dash down Chesapeake bay, across the Atlantic and back to Germany, a trip of 3,000 miles fraught with the continuous danger of capture and possible death to all aboard her. She has been in United States territorial waters a little longer than twenty-three days and loaded a cargo of rubber, nickel and, it is said, a quantity of gold as well. On her way to the sea the Deutschland moved at a speed of about twelve knots and attended only by her conveying tug, the Thomas F. Timmins, and a lone yacht with newspaper correspondents and photographers aboard. The Deutschland passed Annapolis with the weather clear and a light sea running. The yacht Valiant, with other correspondents and photographers, put in there, as did a strange launch filled with men who were said to be secret agents of an allied government. Other ships which had started out with the Deutschland left her earlier, the revenue cutter Wissahickon and the police launch Latham at Port Carroll and the power boat Elico likewise down the bay. Word from the Virginia capes was that news of her departure had already been flashed to the fleet of allied warships lying outside the three mile limit and that they had drawn as closely as possible inshore to await her coming. Picture shows the Deutschland leaving Baltimore.
